I got up early this morning. After I walked the dogs, I went to work. On my way to work I passed my neighbour, Stanley. We smiled and said "Morning" to each other. Stanley is old and he has lived in the neighbourhood for about eighty years. His parents were from England. After I passed Stanley, I went by a little store. The owner, Victor, came from Canada twenty-five years ago and opened the food store in my neighbourhood. Then I walked to Ashland Street. Ashland Street was very busy. There were cars, buses, restaurants and a lot of people.

After work I went back home immediately to see the dogs. After supper I took them to Chicago Street. There were many clothes stores and shoe stores on Chicago Street. I went to see what was for sale.

After I got home, I stood in front of my house with my dogs and talked to my neighbours. There were also lots of kids playing around in the neighbourhood. After the sun set(落下), my neighbourhood got quiet. A beautiful day was over.

What does a typical day look like for a high school student in the United States? Well everyone's is very different. I can describe my normal day in high school for you.

Our school day usually went from 8:30 am to 5:30 pm. However, some days I had cheerleading(啦啦队)practice or play practice at 6:30 am. If I had cheerleading practice I got ready at school, and if I had time, I ate breakfast at the school dining hall.

Then I would go towards my locker and my books for the first period. Each class went for about 50 minutes and we had 4 minutes to get to the next class. We studied everything from science to math and Spanish to PE.

I played the flute(长笛)in band, so one of my class periods was used for that. Lunchtime would be at 12:30 pm and then we had some time to hang out outside or by our lockers. At the end of the day there was a seminar(研讨会)period. It could be used for studying or meetings.

After school, I would cheer at a basketball game, be a lifeguard(救生员)at work or has speech practice. My family always tried to have dinner together at around 7 pm, but there was always time. I would finally start studying at around 8 or 9 pm.

So there you have it! That's my typical day in high school.

阅读短文,并按要求完成66—70题。

Owen Williams and his wife moved into their new home four years ago. Soon, they met their next-door neighbor, Ken Watson. Ken was in his eighties and the new neighbors hit it off(投缘)immediately.

Ken was fond of the Williams. He cared for the couple's two-year-old daughter Cadi very much. He gave her a Christmas present every year. Ken always said that he would live to be 100. But he passed away last October at the age of 87. It was indeed a sad thing for the Williams. However, Ken left the family something special. Not long after Ken's passing, Owen heard a knock at his door. He went to open the door. There stood Ken's daughter, with a huge bag in her hand. The bag contained all the gifts Ken had prepared for Cadi. Actually, there were 14 years' worth of Christmas presents. Owen and his wife were moved to tears when they saw the gifts.

It's a really heart-warming story. Owen and his family will remember their special Christmas angel well beyond 14 years!
