Do you want to know how you can succeed in a new school term? Here are several tips for you from some teachers.

● Use a calendar or chart. Write down special tasks, activities and important dates on a calendar. This helps you remember things you need to do. You can also make a chart. Then, use colorful pens to circle or draw a line under your homework, reading tasks or other activities. By using a chart, you learn how to plan for your studies.

● Buy folders (文件夹) in different colors. Put your notebooks in different folders according to the subject. This helps you keep papers and notes organized.

● Books are great friends. Visit the bookstore or library every few weeks to find a new book to read. The more you get excited about reading, the more confident you will become.

● Join all kinds of clubs. It's important to communicate with teenagers outside of school. Joining sports clubs or other group activities is also a good way to help you learn how to get on with others. During this process(过程), you can learn how to solve problems and respect others.

● Ask for help. You're never too old to ask for help. You can turn to your teachers when there is a question about homework, projects or relationships with your family members. They are there to help solve problems and listen to you.

As we all know, a large number of people in China are using Wechat(微信) to keep in touch with others.

China has 1 billion Wechat users. But if you think only young people use it often, you're wrong. More and more elderly Chinese people are becoming active users. A survey shows that the number of active Wechat users over the age of 55 was only 7.68 million in 2016. But by 2017, the number was 50 million.

On average (平均来说), elderly users spend about 1.4 hours on Wechat every day. Unlike young users, elderly people use voice message and video calls more often. They prefer to share stories about cooking and health.

About half of elderly users learned how to use Wechat from their children or grandchildren. And 23.1% of their Wechat friends are family members, more than both young (9.7%) and middle-aged (16.1) users.
